New Faculty Teaching Workshop

Monday, August 16, 2010 - Room 331 DeBartolo Hall

9:00 – noon
- Welcome
- Teaching Well by Design
  - Articulating Learning Objectives
  - Best Practices
  - Assignment Centered Course Planning
  - The Interactive Method

12:00 – 1:00 pm  Box Lunch

1:00 – 3:00 pm
- Brief Overview of Kaneb Center Services / Fall Workshops
- Characteristics of the Notre Dame Undergraduate
- Undergraduate Student Panel
  - Participants TBD

Tuesday, August 17, 2010 - Room 331 DeBartolo Hall

9:00 – Noon
- Teaching Well by Design, continued
  - The Interactive Method
  - Preparing the Syllabus
  - Grading and Responding to Student Work
    - Grading Philosophy
    - Grading Rubrics
- Breakout Sessions
  - Facilitating Discussion – John Duffy, Associate Professor (English) & Director of College Seminar
  - Problem Solving/Active Learning in the classroom – Steven Schmid, Associate Professor (Aerospace & Mechanical Engineering)

12:00 – 1:15pm  Lunch with Kaneb Faculty Fellows – Legends (restaurant on campus)

1:30 – 3:00 pm
- Overview – technology services at ND that support teaching
- Using PowerPoint well
- Concourse – hands-on with our course management system
- New Technologies – Confluence wiki (Jon Crutchfield)
  - iTunes U (Paul Turner)
- Support – ways the Learning Technology Lab can help you

3:00 – 3:30
- Classroom technology – hands-on practice (Brian Burchett & staff)