

2018 REV. PAUL J. FOIK, C.S.C., AWARD

This year's winner of the Rev. Paul J. Foik, C.S.C., Award for significant contributions by library faculty joined the Hesburgh Libraries in 2011 as a subject specialist librarian for Latin American, Iberian, and Latino studies and quickly became a valued resource within the libraries and the wider University community. As a subject specialist, he worked closely with several academic units, including a collaboration that led to a major library acquisitions grant. Known for his exceptional ability to connect with colleagues and students on an individual level, he was promoted to a supervisory role and served on important library committees and initiatives. Graduate students nominated him for this award, calling him a "very generous scholar" and "a fundamental force in our intellectual and professional development." One went on to note that meeting with him and learning about the collection he helped to expand was instrumental in her decision to attend Notre Dame.

The University of Notre Dame is proud to present the 2018 Rev. Paul J. Foik, C.S.C., Award to
