

NOTRE DAME ALL-FACULTY TEAM /// 2019

Notre Dame has a long history of outstanding student-athletes being named to All-American teams. We thought it was time for some of our most outstanding professors to receive similar recognition.

At every home football game, the provost will honor a different member of the faculty on the field during a timeout. These seven individuals have been chosen from across Notre Dame's colleges and schools for their excellence in research, teaching, and service to the University.
